Lecture 1: Linear Regression

Heading: Linear Regression
Linear regression models the relationship between a scalar response and one or more explanatory variables by fitting a linear equation to observed data. The goal is to find weight coefficients that minimize the residual sum of squares between predicted and actual targets. Linear regression is foundational for supervised learning and continuous prediction tasks.